

Tell Me More: Arizona Department of Education

As a parent, have you ever wanted to know more about the Arizona Department of Education? Check out this quick snapshot from Love Your School!

The mission of the Arizona Department of Education is to serve Arizona's education community, ensuring every child has access to an excellent education.

According to their website, the Arizona Department of Education is the only state-level agency led by a publicly elected official. The office of Superintendent of Public Instruction has existed in Arizona since the state's inception, being included in the first Arizona constitution. The Superintendent of Public Instruction and the agency's staff oversee the K-12 public education system in Arizona.

The ADE website has information for parents and teachers, as well as school information. If you need to contact ADE, you can do so in the following ways:

Arizona Department of Education

1535 West Jefferson Street

Phoenix, Arizona 85007

P: 602-542-5393

<http://www.azed.gov>